

Wagner Cites Importance of Airport Bonds

Election Set for March 14

City Manager Dan Wagner told Palm Springs Lions Thursday that voter approval March 14 of a $2,979,000 bond issue to permit city purchase of the Palm Springs airport is vital to the maintenance of this community's position as the nation's leading desert resort.

Wagner predicted the total cost to the city, after expected federal aid, would be less than half the necessary bond authorization. Ownership of increasingly valuable property, maintenance of high tourist level, broadening of the city tax base for auxiliary business, and increased sales tax revenues were cited as airport purchase gains.

TERMINING THE proposed purchase of 594.54 acres of tribal lands a "solid investment" in increasing land values, Wagner asserted "there are no feasible alternatives." He emphasized that the Congressional act authorizing the purchase requires action by Aug. 10.

"Our lease doesn't expire until Dec. 31, 1965," Wagner told the Lions, explaining that "we have considerable time for negotiations, providing we actually have the funds and can begin firm action by the expiration date of the enabling act."

WAGNER REPORTED at the Chi Chi meeting that the Federal Aviation Agency has indicated support in obtaining federal reimbursement to Palm Springs of approximately 54 per cent of the cost of the lands actually used in airport operations. This would be about 400 acres of the 640 in Section 18, plus additional acreage in Section 12.

"We would have to buy the entire acreage of section 18," Wagner explained. He continued that if portions are used for a freeway route east of the airport state right-of-way purchase would nearly equal the cost for the eastern 175 acres. In any event, "airport related" activities would provide revenue from the lands, or EXPLANATION OF CITY evaluation of the proposed airport purchase bond issue which goes to the polls March 14 was presented to Palm Springs Lions Thursday by city manager Dan Wagner. the eastern sector could be sold for capital funds, the city manager said.

WAGNER REPORTED that traffic from scheduled airlines here has risen annually 71 per cent in the past nine years. Even more important now to Palm Springs economy has been the spending by private fliers.

"General aviation brought Palm Springs $12 million in local business last year," Wagner said. Passengers from scheduled airlines added another $10 million, for a $22 million total.

"WE CAN GAIN related industries at the airport, more jobs, and give a broader base to the sales tax," Wagner told the Lions. He reported that the bonded indebtedness would cost 36 cents per $100 assessed valuation in city taxes the first year, drop to 16 cents in 20 years, if no federal aid were granted, and if no land sales were made to gain capital finances. Reimbursement expected under federal grants would total more than half the total land costs.

"The appraisal on this site deducted $200,000 from the actual appraised price because taking out the runways to make the land salable for other uses would cost that amount," Wagner said. He stressed that replacing the navigation aids and current runways would cost an estimated $1,650,000.

"NO COST AT all is placed on the city for these assets," he said.

Riverside county is "not anxious" to go into a joint venture with Palm Springs, and an airport district with neighboring communities "would result in taxing power, without control," Wagner reported.

WAGNER TOLD the Lions airport accessibility statistically brings "three times the people" the area could expect without the nearby airport. He added that current runways are adequate, and have handled Presidential jets. "Jets can't be expected here in the near future on scheduled lines," he said, because of the Airlines' economics.

Wagner stressed that "residential building here has declined since 1956, but new records were set in construction in 1960. Much of this construction was in hotels. These units must be filled to continue prosperity."

Education Aid Report Given Kennedy Today

NEW YORK (UPI) — A report to President-elect John F. Kennedy today recommended a new $3.5 billion federal education assistance program which would include $30 a year for every child in the American public schools.

The report was presented to Kennedy by a task force headed by Dr. Frederick Hovde, president of Purdue University, shortly before the president-elect flew to Washington for a conference on foreign affairs with Secretary of State-designate Dean Rusk.

ANOTHER TASK force report on Latin America was submitted to Kennedy today by Adolph A. Berle, former State Department official in the Truman administration.

DR. GILLMAN CHAIRMAN

Dinner for Israel Bonds Set Jan. 22

Dr. George Gillman, well known Palm Springs community leader and chairman of the Religious Committee of Palm Springs, has been named chairman of the Palm Springs sponsoring committee of a citywide dinner to be held here in behalf of the campaign for Israel Bonds.

Serving as co-chairman will be Abe Schwartz.

THE TWO appointments followed a meeting of representatives of major local organizations who are cooperating in the drive and culminating dinner, slated for 7 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 22, at the Jewish Community Center, 332 West Alejo Road.

In accepting the post, Dr. Gillman called for all-out participation in the event "as an expression of identification with the young democracy which is serving as a bridgehead between Asia and Africa and the Western world." Outstanding for its pioneering role in inter-organizational cooperation, Palm Springs has set the pattern for this type of combined activity in California.

DESERT CIRCUS PLANS STARTED

Desert Circus board members and officers were formally seated after drawings for board terms during a meeting in El Mirador Hotel Thursday afternoon, and the board immediately proceeded in planning discussions for the 25th anniversary Desert Circus March 1-5.

Nevada, the Silver State, will be honored during this silver anniversary of the gala western-flavored Desert Circus.

OFFICERS AND executive committee members for the Palm Springs Desert Circus are Edgar L. McCoubrey, president; William Smith, vice president; Don Goun-dry, treasurer; Mrs. Karol Markley, secretary, and ex-officio president Earle Strebe.

Board members named for three year terms are Mrs. J. Ross Clark II, Jimmy Cooper, Sam Janis, William Smith, Carl Schooss and Jimmy Morton. Two year term members are Don Goun-dry, Edgar L. McCoubrey, Ray Ryan, Frank Bogert and Tony Burke. Drawing one year terms are Marvin Fritz, Earle Strebe, Robert Schlesinger, Sam Hinkle and Mrs. Karol Markley.

THE BOARD authorized McCoubrey, who will work with the executive committee, to take action in selection of a publicity firm or individual publicist for the big annual event.

The board discussed contacts with key Nevada state officials and leading business and civic figures, plus tentative plans for the five day events, Parade Grand Marshal and High Sheriff are both expected to be selected from prominent Nevada horsemen.

The parade will feature the flags of Texas, Colorado and Washington, states previously honored by Desert Circus, in addition to Nevada.

Rev. Harwood Resigns DHS Chamber Post

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — The Rev. Charles Harwood, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, submitted his resignation as a member of the Chamber of Commerce board and chairman of the board's welcome committee during a board meeting Thursday evening. Rev. Harwood wrote Chamber president Robert G. Lester that the press of ministerial duties forced him to relinquish the post. Named as new welcome committee chairman is W. L. Harrison, who will be aided by Ted Spel-laza and Walter Clocke.

AGMA GIVEN CANCELLATION NOTIFICATION

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — The La Cherry Blossom Opera Company of Palm Springs has notified the American Guild of Musical Artists that it has cancelled "all full-scale operatic operations," it was announced today by AGMA.

The guild announced receipt of a letter from John Patrick O'Hallam in which La Cherry Blossom Opera Company made the declaration.

Troops Fire Over Heads Of Strikers

Worst Explosion Of Violence in Belgium Crisis

BRUSSELS, Belgium — U — Troops and police fired volleys of rifle shots over the heads of rioting strikers in Liege today in the worst explosion of violence in Belgium's 18-day-old national strike crisis.

Officials said at least 17 gendarmes were hurt. Estimates place the number of rioters injured at more than two dozen.

WITNESSES DESCRIBED the four-hour street battle in Liege as a "near-insurrection."

In previous clashes between gendarmes and rioters throughout the country, scores have been injured. Three persons have been killed in separate instances of strike violence.

The troops fired over the rioting strikers' heads today when the mob seethed through Liege ransacking public buildings and shops.

THE VIOLENCE, coupled with an announcement that the strike will go on "to the end," threatened chances for an early compromise between Premier Gaston Eyskens' Conservative government and the opposition socialists.

Earlier, more than 2,000 demonstrators staged a protest march in the Brussels industrial suburb of Forest to clamor for the release of 30 strikers held in prison on charges of rioting. This demonstration broke up without incidents.

The street fighting in the industrial district of Liege followed reports that all efforts to King Baudouin to mediate the conflict had failed.

Daughter Calls Deputies, 'Father Beating Mother'

INDIO — James Pervin Rhodes, 43-year-old Mecca area laborer, is in jail here today following his arrest Thursday evening after sheriff's officers responded to a frantic call from his nine-year-old daughter reporting Rhodes was savagely beating his wife, Beatrice.

Lt. Vernon Woodward and deputy John Paul Jones filed charges of carrying a concealed weapon when they found a .45 calibre revolver — reportedly taken by Rhodes from his wife — hidden in his shirt. Rhodes filed charges of assault.

Rhodes, who denied assault charges here, reportedly began beating his wife in their Kapra Ranch home when she threatened to leave with the two children. Mrs. Rhodes stated she fired one warning shot from the loaded revolver, which jammed. Rhodes took the weapon, and continued beating her.

GRAND JURY ACTS IN ELSINORE CASE

RIVERSIDE — Twelve indictments were handed down yesterday by the Riverside County Grand Jury as a result of preliminary investigations into Elsinore's controversy-racked "City of Hate" telecast on a Los Angeles TV channel in 1959.

And, the Grand Jury indicated, the investigation is still continuing.

INDICTED BY THE jurors on charges of conspiracy to commit slander were:

Pat Michaels, onetime commentator for Station KTTV, Channel 5, which aired the "City of Hate" broadcast; Police Chief Walter Bittle, Mayor Thomas Bartlett, realtor Sam Farber, retired businessman Ben Kagan, City Attorney Carl S. Kegley, retired optical wholesaler Morris Kominsky and former KTTV executive James Schulke.

City Attorney Kegley was also indicted for presenting false claims to the City of Elsinore for telephone bills during January and June of 1960.

THE ENTIRE ELSINORE City

Council — Mayor Bartlett and councilmen Thomas Yarbrough, Joseph Davidson, Roy Macy and Richard McAdams — was indicted for conspiracy to violate terms of a water permit issued by the State Department of Public Health in its Sept. 8 action ordering 100 per cent mineral water into the city's general water supply.

Still under investigation by the Grand Jury is alleged subversive activity directed against both Gentile and Jewish people, improper voter registration procedures, violations of the Brown (anti-secrecy) Act and several evidences of perjured testimony before the Grand Jury.

The conspiracy charges brought against the group are punishable by up to three years imprisonment. Criminal complaints, issuable by the Riverside County District Attorney, are needed to proceed in the indictment situation.

Indio Man Killed In Crash Today

BRAWLEY (UPI) — Rogelio Cortez, 31, Indio, died today in Pioneer Hospital shortly after his car and a tank truck collided head-on about 20 miles north of here on U.S. 99.

The driver of the gas truck was not injured.

CALEXICO — UPI — Some 500 farm workers have voted to strike during the week of Jan. 16 at the peak of the lettuce harvesting season if demands for a $1.25 hourly minimum wage are not met by Imperial Valley growers.

Mattress Blamed in Tragedy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A mattress fire believed extinguished suddenly erupted into a general alarm blaze in a Mission Street hotel here early today and fire officials said 17 persons were killed.

Twenty-seven other tenants, two firemen and two policemen were taken to emergency hospitals for treatment of injuries. Others were treated on the scene.

MOST OF THE four-story, half-century old building's 150 occupants were elderly persons.

Survivors in their night clothes leaped into fire nets and down light wells onto mattresses hastily placed in position by the 200 firemen who responded. Others scrambled down ladders. The fire was controlled after 90 minutes.

FIRE CHIEF William Murray said the fire might have been avoided had an alarm been sounded more promptly. He said the fire started in a first floor room when the occupant called a neighbor to help extinguish a mattress fire during the night.

They put out the fire and went back to sleep, according to Murray. The mattress rekindled, causing the inferno.

"They should have called us the first time it burst into flame," Murray said. "That's a standard rule for anyone."

The occupant of the room in which the fire started, Raymond Gorman, 62, was treated at an emergency hospital for minor injuries.

MOST OF the four-story, half-century old building's 150 occupants were elderly persons.

Firemen saved several lives with swift action with the mattresses. When they arrived on the scene several tenants were leaning out upper story windows over the lightwell shouting that they were going to jump.

Firemen urged them to wait a few moments and piled several mattresses at the bottom. The tenants jumped and landed safely on the mattresses.

At least two of the dead were women.

AT THE HEIGHT of the blaze a pillar of flame shot up through the inside of the Thomas Hotel and 150 feet into the air. It was visible for miles and attracted a crowd of several hundred to the scene at 5th and Mission streets, just one block from Market Street in downtown San Francisco.

The fire was general or five alarms—highest number for the San Francisco fire department — with a rare "emergency" alert for the entire department.

It was also the worst hotel fire here since 1944 when the New Amsterdam burned killing 24.

Anchorage Publisher Boosts Antarctica 'Building Boom'

By PEYTON CANARY

Robert B. Atwood, editor and publisher of the Anchorage Times, stopped off here on his way home to Alaska to warm up after a trip to Antarctica, the world's coldest land.

A major continent in size, Antarctica is perpetually buried under 1,000 to 5,000 feet of glacial ice. It is so barren the common cold is rare because germs freeze in seconds in the frigid atmosphere. No plant or animal life except simple lichen is known to exist.

THE GLOSSY black and white Emperor Penguin, nesting on the ice and marching with ambassadorial dignity to greet every explorer since Robert Scott penetrated the ice continent in 1902, gains its livelihood from the sea. Despite the sterile handicaps, Antarctica is the scene of major activity.

ROBERT B. ATWOOD

"Already there is talk of building a tourist hotel down there,"

Atwood reported. "It probably would do a brisk business from people who want to say they've been there—like me," he grinned.

THE SPRAWLING (5.3 million square miles) continent may serve as an intercontinental jet station for South Africa, South America, and Australia, Atwood said. Establishment of a permanent United States scientific camp at McMurdo Sound on Ross Island — the first permanent life-supporting facility in the remote coldness — could provide a key to commercial use.

"The delivered price of fuel oil which makes life possible is estimated at $10 a gallon," Atwood reported. A $2 million nuclear power plant is planned for construction in the winter of 1961-2. Seabee units are already working on found-

Beebe Urges Urban Redevelopment for Section 14

Palm Springs Mayor Frank Bogert, who has sought to promote a minority housing development in the Palm Springs area, was joined this week by Councilman George Beebe Jr., who asked for an Urban Redevelopment Program on Section 14 in downtown Palm Springs.

Beebe made it clear that he was "not asking for a vote of the redevelopment program but only for a study to see if something can't be done."

THE SITUATION is becoming more acute month by month, as members of the Agua Caliente Indian Tribe and their conservators start a clean-up campaign on the downtown section.

Since February 1956, some 44 homes in the area have been cleared away, and, according to Building Inspector Jack Sanders, another half dozen are in the process of being condemned.

This is forcing the minority groups of Palm Springs into doubling and sometimes tripling up in the homes left on the land, "because there just isn't anywhere else they can go."

MAYOR BOGERT, since he was elected to the council almost three years ago, has been working steadily to get private money to build a low-cost rental unit project for these people, but the location of it has been the big problem.

"If it is too far from downtown, they can't get into town, and there just isn't any place they can go downtown," said the mayor. Beebe said these people are definitely needed in this town... they need some place to go."

"I don't see any other approach to it than an Urban Development Program," Beebe concluded.

dations. For a small dot in the uncharted land, this plant can provide light and warmth. Food, shelter, probably drinking water, will have to continue dependence on outside sources.

"THERE IS NO deterioration problem, but snow and ice coverage and the effects of gale winds are major threats in the areas near the seas where supplies can be delivered," Atwood observed.

The Antarctic trip of the globe traveling publisher was a purposeful mission. He inspected the National Science Foundation expedition based at McMurdo Sound, Ross Island, the tenth American expedition to prove the region surrounding the South Pole.

"I went there at the invitation of the Navy to see if some of the work done there could be done in Alaska," Atwood explained. He concluded that because "Antarctica is a continent, it offers stability for studies impossible in the North Pole regions — and for cold, it makes Alaska's coldest look mild." Alaskan cold, famed in story and poetry, has records of 80 below zero. Antarctica, largely unexplored, has recorded temperatures of 125 degrees below zero.

"AND THE WIND blows constantly," Atwood shivered.

The Navy supply mission to the scientists employs 3,000 men, 30 planes, six to eight ships. The National Science Foundation, working with scientists of Stanford University, the Universities of Michigan and Wisconsin, has a $2 million program — supported by a $23.5 million capital and supply expense program underwritten by the Navy. Cost factors include $10 a gallon delivered fuel costs, $3 a gallon for water.

"THERE ARE details which go out to snow mines to obtain snow for water," Atwood explained. Ice the most plentiful potential water source, is loaded with volcanic ash and impotable.

"Showers are limited to one a week, and even drinking water is somewhat limited. Since water costs more than beer, this is not a major problem," the editor reported.

Transportation to and from Antarctica is a major problem. Atwood flew nearly two days, via Hawaii and New Zealand, to reach the McMurdo Bay site. On the continent, hampered by "white-outs" which blend ice, snow, and sky in one directionless milky haze, air travel is punctual if unconventional.

"I FLEW TO ONE camp 800 miles inland on a flight delivering dynamite to the base. I rode on top of the dynamite. Cold dynamite is somewhat unpredictable, and the outside temperature on the ground was 38 below zero," Atwood recalled musingly.

The inland supply flights unload with engines running, to minimize danger of cold engine failures. With food, shelter, and extreme exposure round-the-clock problems, unexpected guests would be a problem at a field camp. Missing a flight schedule — with gasoline supplies on loaded planes limited, and no life-sustaining auxiliary fields for emergency landings—is fatal.

"NO ONE IS LATE for a plane," Atwood observed. An unloading tractor-sled working the dynamite cargo was one-minute late. The cargo was pushed out of the big C-130, as the plane taxied forward, and the base camp personnel had to retrieve it from the wind-swept ice.

"It isn't brutal or just a whim—life can depend on seconds of flying time," Atwood explained.

Current scientific studies conducted by Americans include work on the "timing" system of plant and animal metabolism, effect of glaring light and prolonged night, barometric pressures, human survival and related fields.

"ONE SCIENTIST is placing hamsters, cockroaches, and plants on a counter-rotation platform which nullifies the earth's rotation," Atwood reported. The study probes the theory of gravity and rotation on life's inner "clocks." Meteorology, glacial travel, and sea currents are other subjects with possible commercial or defense applications.

Today, American, Russian, and British Commonwealth teams are working in the wide emptiness of the earth's southern cap. "It looks as if work there will become a continuing branch of physical science," Atwood concluded. But for a place to live, it's too cold for an Alaskan.

SMUT WAR SLATED BY LEGISLATURE

SACRAMENTO — M — Three methods of banishing pornographic literature from California's newsstand are being prepared for introduction in the 1961 legislature.

One features a positive approach.

Another concentrates on protecting juveniles.

And the third presents the press position.

THE AUTHOR WILL be Assemblymen Bert DeLotto, D-Fresno; Louis Francis, R-San Mateo, and Glenn E. Coolidge, R-Felton.

DeLotto has brought an old word back to life for his proposal. The word is "prurient" and describes deviation from normal.

The Fresno Democrat proposes to make it illegal to sell books where "the dominant theme appeals to the prurient interests."

For this, it won't be necessary to take apart a book page by page and passage by passage, he said, but only to look at the complete publication.

Castro Must 'Go' Before U.S. Returns

Restoration of U. S. Relations in Cuba Depends on Ouster

WASHINGTON — U.S. officials believe that Premier Fidel Castro must go before there can be any consideration of restoring diplomatic relations with Cuba.

The view here today was that the communication of the island country has become virtually complete. Castro was described as having gone beyond the point of no return.

THE UNITED STATES apparently hopes that his downfall will be hastened by actions of other Latin American republics. U. S. officials predicted that President Eisenhower's lead in breaking relations would be followed by other hemispheric nations.

Six Latin American countries already have broken relations with Castro. They are Peru, the Dominican Republic, Paraguay, Nicaragua, Haiti, and Guatemala.

Some American officials also believe that the Organization of American States (OAS) may take action within the next few months to "quarantine" Cuba by cutting off economic relations and setting up a hemispheric committee to stop operations of Cuban and Brazil, the two largest countries in the hemispheric alliance.

THE OTHER AMERICAN republics want to be sure of the attitudes of the two new administrations before committing themselves.

The White House made it clear that the United States, despite the rupture of relations, has no intention of abandoning its big Guantanamo naval base in Cuba. White House news secretary James C. Hagerty said Wednesday:

A new desert publishing venture will make its bow in Palm Springs January 12, according to mail-out announcements to day. The announcements describe the new venture as a "dynamic new newspaper, the Palm Springs Star . . . the sparkling newspaper that Palm Springs has long wanted and needed."

The publication will be a weekly free distribution throwaway edited and published by Virgil Pinkley who heads a group of investors which purchased the Associated Desert Newspapers in Imperial Valley in 1958.

County Refers Accident Claim To Insurers

A claim was filed with the board of supervisors this week by J. Frederick Rosen, Coachella attorney, in behalf of Maggie Bowman "and others" for damages resulting from a collision between two cars Sept. 26 at the junction of Highways 99 and 111 near Coachella. The claim was automatically rejected and will be turned over to the county's insurance carriers.

It was not clear wherein the county figured in the accident since no county car appears to have been involved and the accident occurred at the junction of a state and a federal highway, not a county highway.

According to the claim, "the cars skidded in a puddle of oil slick which was wrongfully and negligently allowed to remain on said Highway 99 at the junction of 111 after same spilled from a truck, tractor and trailer owned by System Transport Inc. of San Pedro and driven by one Rudolph Serna."

Damages for "pain and suffering and mental anguish" were set at $25,000, but the claim stated that the full extent of injuries to claimants or to their automobiles is not yet known.

One of the most critical problems for Minnesota pioneers was to get iron strong enough to build the plowshares that would turn the tough prairie soil.

Monkey Business at the Zoo Suspends Animal Keeper

SAN FRANCISCO — Visitors to San Francisco's Fleishhaker Zoo witnessed quite a show in one of the monkey cages Tuesday. In fact, it was so unusual that even the monkeys watched in awe.

During the late afternoon, animal keeper Norman Becknell was trying to catch a stubborn gibbon named Sally with a net. She refused to be caught, which angered Becknell slightly.

Zoo director Carey Baldwin said when he arrived on the scene, Becknell was wrestling with Sally. Baldwin said he stepped into the cage and was attacked by Becknell — who tossed the director out.

Baldwin left to call police, and keeper foreman Fred Roemer entered the cage in an effort to calm Becknell. The angry man wasn't impressed by Roemer's efforts — so he threw the foreman out.

Police finally quieted Becknell, who was suspended for 30 days and must face a hearing to determine whether he should be fired.

"I've been around zoos and animals for 40 years," Baldwin said, "but this is the first time I was ever injured by a keeper." "I've got nothing to say," Becknell remarked.

THE DESERT SUN

The Greatest Year in Progress

That Palm Springs experienced its greatest year in construction and development has been evident for some time, with the city building department announcement of an $18.3 million permit year merely authenticating this.

New records have been established in construction for the past two years, with the total for both being $33 million.

Most impressive was the total of new homes—510—which were added within the corporate limits.

Of equal interest was the number of swimming pools constructed during the year—282—which brought the total in Palm Springs to 2,430. Using the census figure of 13,468, this averages out to one pool for every 5½ persons.

Hotels, businesses, churches and schools kept equal pace.

Similar construction progress was established in the other communities of this area, marking it as the greatest forward stride for one year in Desert history.

And this can be termed only the beginning, with every indication supporting the belief the next year will be even better in progress.

Toots Shor Upset Over Cabinet

NEW YORK — Toots Shor is quite upset over the number of Harvard men President-elect Kennedy has appointed to his Cabinet and official family.

"Cheer, it's tough on we Yale bums," he gripes.

JUST AS JOHN Daly and Virginia Warren Daly emerged from the church after their San Francisco wedding to face the battery of cameramen awaiting them, a happy wine staggered in front of them and posed with the bride and groom. He was removed by a gendarme and sent on his way.

A week later, the phone in the Dalys' suite at the Royal Hawaiian rang and the operator said there was a Mr. Piper on, calling collect from San Francisco. Mr. Piper would speak either to Mr. or Mrs. Daly.

JOHN, WHO knows about eight zillion persons, racked his mind and nothing that sounded like Piper rang a bell. He called to Virginia, but she knew no Mr. Piper either. Daly asked the operator to find out something more about the collect caller. The girl came back on the phone after a bit and said, "Mr. Piper says that he has made headlines with you; he's been in the newspapers with you."

DALY ASKED for more information, and got it. Mr. Piper was calling collect to apologize for losing up the post-wedding picture.

"Tell him he's forgiven and wish him a Happy New Year," Daly asked the operator, and she did—thus enabling Mr. Piper to get his message through to Mr. and Mrs. Daly and vice versa and leaving the phone company with the tab.

JUST ABOUT THIS time, 16 years ago, Walter Winchell made a radio appeal for funds to support a hospital bed in memory of Damon Runyon, who had died of cancer not long before that. Winchell's goal was $75,000. He didn't think he'd make it, but was prepared to chip in the difference if there was little or no response.

In a Miami Beach club later that same night, Swift Morgan, who had been Runyon's inspiration for the Lemon Drop Kid stories, put a $50 bill in Winchell's hand. That was the first contribution to the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for cancer research.

AS OF DEC. 31, 1960, contributions have totaled better than $16,500,000. The fund has awarded 1,127 grants and 470 fellowships in 302 institutions in 50 states, the District of Columbia and 25 foreign lands.

The Runyon Fund has been a marvel at eliminating the two great maladies that afflict all charities: Administrative costs and red tape. Winchell picked up the Administrative costs for years, now shares them with five wealthy, anonymous benefactors. As for the tape, that is cut through monthly at a meeting of Executive Director John Teeter's Scientific Advisory Committee.

THE COMMITTEE is composed of top men in the field of cancer research, men who know where the money they disburse will throw the most solid punch against that wicked destroyer of the species.

Runyon, who could be tough as nails when he wanted to be, had a sentimental side. Just before he died he took out his pad—which he used in lieu of a voice—and jotted to a pal. It read, "You can keep the things of bronze and stone. Give me one man to remember me once a year."

In Winchell he found a man who was to remember him all 365 days of that year.

What Republicans Need

WASHINGTON — What the Republican party seems to need right now is a national committee chairman like the late John J. Raskob and a political gun slinger in the image of old Charley Michelson.

That would be a rare combination. Raskob was an Horatio Alger figure of great wealth, a close friend of the Democrat's great Alfred E. Smith. As a friend of Smith, Raskob accepted the Democratic national chairmanship to run and help pay for Al Smith's 1928 presidential campaign.

HERBERT HOOVER overwhelmed Smith for president. The Republicans all but eliminated the Democratic party in Congress. Raskob had the money and the courage to attempt to rebuild the party. His first move was to offer Charley Michelson $25,000 a year to become publicity director of the Democratic National Committee.

Michelson had been Washington political correspondent for the New York Morning World. His idea, and Raskob's was that the way to make the Democratic party look good was to make the Republican party look bad. When Charley took over, the Democrats had not elected a president since 1916. With his help, the Democrats began to do better.

CHARLEY DIDN'T give a hoot about platforms, campaign promises or the gre-e-e-a-t principles of his gre-e-e-a-t party. But Charley was a party man. He was for the Democratic party and against all other parties. His aim in life was to win elections. He often said he was short on ethics, himself, as for instance in this paragraph from his memoirs published in 1944:

"NOBODY HAS ever been able to formulate a political code of ethics. Despite the fine altruistic language of party platforms, the habit always has been to smite the opposition regardless of Marquis of Queensbury rules, whenever and however the opportunity offers."

That is the way old Charley socked 'em. He was an ugly, little, humped-over man with the cold eye of an executioner. Michelson and a research staff were a deadly combination. It was his job to inform the public of the distempers afflicting the nation and to prove their Republican origin.

OVER THE YEARS, Michelson accused and might near convicted the Republican party of everything, including drought, floods and the common cold. He ghosted speeches which statesmen were happy to deliver, unchanged, and he made for these clients reputations for wit, ridicule and political mayhem which they did not deserve.

His blasts of criticism did not merely sting. They burned. Charley stayed on with the Democrats through the Roosevelt administrations and with Harry S. Truman until he died full of years in 1948. But Charley was not a New Dealer. For do-gooders, social workers and political amateurs in general he had a genial contempt. Of his Roosevelt years, old Charley wrote:

"I NEVER HAD a part in formulating Roosevelt policies. I was merely a propagandist and therefore campaigned to the best of my ability for anything the president proposed."

Charley's best was very good indeed.

How About Changing That Lock?

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

To me the right
To stay alive
Rates higher than
The right to drive.

I mean the right to drive as we please.

AN AIRPLANE crash recently brought screaming headlines in our newspapers. In New York 139 lives were lost as two planes collided.

There was a deluge of demands for better safety methods, there ought to be a law.

SO I LOOKED it up. In 1959, the last year for which I have a complete record, 211 deaths were blamed on airplane crashes in the United States. All with prompt demands that we do something about it.

In the same year, there were 38,700 plus deaths on our highways. And every demand that something be done about it brought protests.

It would infringe on the rights of the drivers.

DOESN'T THAT SEEM rather foolish? Remember the loud outcries against speed traps? Sneaky motorcycle police hiding behind billboards? They menaced the constitutional rights of motorists was the claim — and still is.

Listen to the squawks about radar speed control.

You all know that drivers will take a chance if there is no officer in sight.

THEN, WHY NOT, as is being done with radar control, post signs? "Plain clothes police in unmarked cars ahead."

Or, "Speed traps the next 15 miles."

The reckless driver who breaks every traffic law unless he spots a marked car with a red light, would knock it off.

He wouldn't know but what that jolopy he just cut in on was a souped-up plain clothesman's car.

SO HE WOULDN'T take a chance. And perhaps our highway deaths wouldn't be 19,000 times greater than our air crashes.

Everybody yelps about speed. Well, that's all right because if there is a crash at high speed, the results are more deadly.

But the slow driver, the lane weaver, the tail-gater at boulevard stops, the amber-light jumper, cause most of the accidents.

IT STILL SEEMS to me that we should be more excited over 38,000 deaths on the highways than 212 in airplanes.

And do something about it. There are no laws protecting the man carrying a six-gun. He's snatched at once.

An automobile in ignorant hands, is just as lethal as a gun.

THE AUTOMOBILE is a wonderful device. It has changed our way of living for the better. But in 1961 I'd like to see some laws which would keep it as a boon to mankind instead of a menace.

Give a thought to the almost 700 people who were with us before Christmas, who are not today.

STAN DELAPLANE:

Women World Unite

"It is not the men of Switzerland who keep Swiss women from having the vote," said Mr. Fred Birmann. "It is the women themselves who refuse it."

We were having lunch in the Carlton Elite in Zurich. It is a central hotel with effective remodeling. Swiss bankers, for the first time since the war, are giving strong financial backing to the hotel industry.

MR. BIRMANN IS with the Swiss Tourist Office. His wife is from the Italian-Swiss cantons. And they have a home in the fashionable part of Zurich called "Dividend Hill."

"Why do Swiss women refuse the vote?" I asked. "How can they attend meetings? Or alter history if they do not vote?"

"SWISS WOMEN do not want to alter history by suffrage. My wife does not want to vote. She says: 'Now, if I go into a crowded streetcar, three or four men get up and offer me a seat. If I had the vote, they would not do this. They would think I already had what I want.'"

"Swiss women know that in countries where women have the vote, men do not know the true superiority of women in being women."

"Our Swiss women say, 'Voting is man's business. If we vote we lose our superiority. Because we are not feminine.'"

"YOU HAVE SEEN our Swiss-German women," said Mr. Birmann. "You know they are quite fat. What would happen if they had the vote, too? They would lose all their charm."

"How do they get so fat?"

"It is the Zurich pastry," said Mr. Birmann. "That and the Swiss way of life."

"A SWISS WOMAN rises in the morning and gets her husband's breakfast. All morning she is expected to clean house."

At noon, her husband comes home for the big lunch. For we have here a two-hour lunch period. Everybody goes home.

"In the afternoon, she finishes her work. She then has from 4 to 6 o'clock for her social life.

"AT THAT TIME," said Mr. Birmann, "all the big patisserie shops are jammed with housewives."

"They drink coffee and eat the delicious sweet-cake patisserie. And they grow fatter and fatter."

"In Zurich, there are 450,000 people. They consume 900,000 pieces of patisserie a day! Two per person! I do not eat patisserie. My wife does not eat patisserie. Some fat women are eating our share also."

MR. BIRMANN said some startling changes are in store for Zurich. Changes that will shake fat and patisserie.

"On the first of the year, the Zurich banks began a 3½-hour lunch hour, instead of the two-hour system. Since banks are important business, all other places of business will follow."

"THIS MEANS the business-man will go to work at 7 and get off at 5, instead of 6. His wife will not cook and eat the big lunch with him. Nor will she get the time from 4 to 6 to eat patisserie."

"It may be a turning point in Zurich history."

The banks were very clever in starting the new system. They put in low-cost canteen lunchrooms.

"THE EMPLOYEES were glad to get such cheap and good food. They also save on transportation costs home at lunch time."

"The Zurich housewives will not have time for the patisserie afternoon session. And, who knows," said Mr. Birmann, "Zurich women may once again become slim."

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: My wife is 40 and I am 41. We have 2 children. My wife has had me believing for 22 years that she couldn't drive a car. I had to drive her everywhere she wanted to go.

Now get this. I just found out from a very reliable source that she has been driving 20 miles once a week to meet a certain man while she was supposed to be doing the marketing by bus. I am shocked and sick because a sweeter wife never lived. She was a perfect mother and I never came home to find her gone. What do you think I should do? IN A DAZE

DEAR IN: Ask her if the story is true. (Not all "reliable sources" are reliable.) If she's been living a double life, put aside your own hurt and bitterness and do what is best for your family. Forgive her. And having forgiven her—don't mention it again.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young man who is five feet, five inches tall. I am marrying a girl who is exactly my height in her stocking feet. When we would go anywhere she'd wear flats because it bothered her to be a little taller than I. It never bothered me, and for my part, she could have worn high heels.

We are being married soon, and she wants to wear high heels for her wedding. This is fine with me, but here's the catch. She wants ME to get a pair of those phony elevated shoes. I told her I wouldn't do it. Do you think I am wrong? FIVE FEET FIVE

DEAR FIVE: No, I think you're right. If she wants to start her married life on the level, tell her to come down to earth. But don't surrender your masculinity by inches.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is people who "drop by" just before dinnertime and hang around waiting to be invited to join you for dinner. Well, this "friend" pulled that hanging around stunt once too often. We usually eat at 6:30, but I waited until 7:30. The children even complained (in front of him) that they were hungry, but he didn't move.

I finally asked him if he had his dinner. He said, "No." So I said, "Well, you had better go home and get it because we are eating now." He left and we haven't seen him since. Was I too blunt? NOBODY'S FOOL

DEAR NOBODY'S FOOL: Slightly. You could have achieved the same result by saying, "Will you please excuse us while we have our dinner?" The man may have little sense, but he probably has feelings.

CONFIDENTIAL TO TOMMY: The mental cases most difficult to cure are those people who are "crazy" about themselves.

Clarke to Discuss New Book at 'Hearthside'

By GEORGE LAINE

John Robert Clarke, whose "Adventures in Living" provided a major stimulus for the Village during his fall series in the Biltmore Hotel and who is slated to launch his spring series in the same location about mid-February, will return to town Wednesday for a hearthside discussion at Cactus Slim Moorten's home here.

The tall, well-tanned travel-lecturer, whose book "The Importance of Being Imperfect" is now rolling at David McKay Company presses in New York, will discuss the book in a short lecture titled "How Almost Anyone Can Write a Book."

Clarke DOESN'T know (or even care) if his remarks prompt any listeners to hustle to their friendly Underwood and bat out the great American novel or the story of their life.

But the chances are good you'll get a great deal more enjoyment from the book — slated to hit the bookstores on Feb. 3 — after hearing Clarke's rather comical comments on how the book came about. An anecdote from Paris, an incident from Athens, an unusual situation from Ydra — these, and more, are the things of which the book is made. Since Clarke already qualifies as a master story teller, the hearthside should prove doubly stimulating.

There'll be the usual goodies and conversation following the discussion with the Moorten's providing the hosting in their show-place home at 1735 South Palm Canyon. You shouldn't miss it.

INDIO'S KIWANIS Club, which knows a good thing when it sees it, is presenting the Palm Springs PlayerStage production of "Pajama Game" in Coachella Valley Union High School on Jan. 21.

This will furnish a marvelous opportunity for Coachella Valley residents (who missed the musical when it played the Mediterranean Room of the Palm Springs Riviera Hotel over the holidays) to see it. Martin Beck says he'll take the entire company to Thermal for the production and if it goes anywhere nearly as well as CV High as it did in its closing performances here, folks at the south end of the valley have a treat in store for them.

Paint Sales Hikes Forecast for 1961

Gains in sales in the paint industry during 1961 was forecast here this week by Earl W. Dodd, branch manager of Sherwin-Williams, 101 North Indian Avenue.

Dodd's prediction was based on information received from Arthur W. Steudel, chairman of the board of Sherwin-Williams.

"LIKE A GOOD many other industries, the paint industry experienced a slow-down in its rate of growth through 1960," Dodd said. "Latest available figures (still incomplete) indicate that total sales for the year will about equal or be only very slightly higher than the $1.7 billion record established in 1959. This is in sharp contrast to the consistent yearly gains the paint industry has enjoyed for more than a decade."

Steudel pointed out that Sherwin-Williams "fared better than the industry generally during our 1960 fiscal year which ended August 31. Our sales were 4.02 per cent greater than in the previous year. They continued upward in the last quarter of the year but at a somewhat reduced rate."

ADDING THAT IT is difficult to gauge whether the slow-down will continue well into 1961, Steudel cited the following signs which indicate the low point is now behind:

- Total urban housing is expected to increase by 4 to 5 per cent in the new year.
- Public building which includes schools and hospitals shows no signs of diminishing.
- The home modernization market has been growing steadily and will surely continue to grow.
- Industry is expected to place greater emphasis on maintenance activities.

Somebody Likes Them

GEORGIA, Vt. (UPI)—A priest and a student minister escaped injury when their cars collided during a heavy rainstorm here on a section of road known as Dead Man's Curve.

ONE OF PALM SPRINGS' busiest intersections, Indian Avenue and Tahquitz Drive, is documentary proof of the tremendous traffic problem that exists in Palm Springs during the season. Councilman George Beebe, Jr., commenting on a radio program which reports every hour or so on local traffic problems, said: "Local businessmen were up-in-arms over the fact that the station warns people off Palm Canyon Drive because of traffic." This picture, showing traffic backed up all the way to Alejo Road, is proof that Indian Avenue offers little relief. (Desert Sun Photo)

Construction Industry Set For '61 Climb

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The construction industry got a bit ahead of itself with its sharp rise in 1959, leveled off in 1960 and now appears set to resume its upward course in 1961.

Industry experts look for construction to be a sustaining force in the economy in 1961. They see particular strength in residential building and public works — sufficient to offset expected declines in non-residential building and private building categories.

THE DEPARTMENT of Commerce anticipates a $55.1 billion construction total for 1960, a 2 per cent dip from the $56.2 billion volume in record 1959. It estimates a figure of $57.3 billion for 1961.

The decline in 1960 marked the first time since the end of World War II that the building business failed to set new records. While the 15 per cent rate of gain enjoyed in 1959 proved impossible to maintain, the industry in 1960 still operated well above the 1958 level.

Dr. George Cline Smith, chief economist for the F. W. Dodge Corp., construction marketing specialists, looks on 1960 as "the end of an era — the year in which the last nail was driven into the coffin of the post-war period."

HOUSING, WHICH had suffered a 16-year hiatus during the depression and the war, probably was further in arrears than any other important activity, and it is not surprising that it has been among the last to revert to normal, Smith said. However, by late 1960, there was evidence that even housing was finally falling into phase with the rest of the economy.

Nevertheless, Smith feels, the outlook is bright for the decade ahead. "The fact is," he said, "that markets during the '60's, for business in general and for construction in particular, are going to be colossal. What is different is that competition among sellers will be fierce, and that buyers will be more coy and elusive than they were in the post-war period. There will be plenty of business and plenty of profit, but it will go to those firms who do the best job of identifying, locating, studying, reaching, intriguing and selling their customers."

HOUSING WITH non-farm starts off to around 1,300,000 units in 1960, compared with 1,531,000 in 1959, was the chief contributor to the construction decline in 1960.

GARDENING IN THE DESERT

Non-Desert Plants Flourish in Desert

Of late we have received many inquiries about trees and shrubs that were not indigenous to our desert but are now widely grown here.

Take the Passion Flower Vine for instance. Originally a native of tropical South America where there were about 300 varieties, only about ten species were brought into America. The Spanish missionaries of the early days named this flower because of a fancied resemblance of parts of the flower to the instruments of Christ's Crucifixion.

THE CORONA WAS supposed to represent the crown of thorns, the three styles were the nails of the Cross, and the five anthers were the marks of the wounds. Omitting Peter who denied and Judas who betrayed, the five sepals and the five petals were regarded as symbolizing the apostles.

Pincarnata, one of the many species of Passion Flower climbs to a height of 10 to 30 feet. It has three-lobed leaves and white flowers with a purple crown. This one grows from Virginia to Missouri and southward to Florida and Texas.

These differ slightly to the Passion Flowers that grow in Southern California, these being mostly of a brownish taint. Some tropical species produce highly perfumed, delicate, desert fruits such as the water lemon, and sweet calabash.

BANANA, A MEMBER of the banana family, actually was a native of India, where its cultivation, antedating all historical records, has been extensive for more than 4,000 years. Pliny writes that the Greeks with Alexandra the Great saw the bananas growing in India.

Because of its pound for pound value it has a greater food value than other common fresh fruit. It is the most important tropical fruit used in temperate regions, ranking with the apple, grape, olive, orange and lemon among the leading fruits of the world. The West Indies and Central America raise enormous quantities, and ship them mostly to United States and Europe.

THE CAROB, WHICH grows so well in the desert, is one of the easiest to raise here, it is evergreen and uses very little water. They may be seen along the edge of Thunderbird Country Club where it borders Highway 111. The contents of the pods that are slow growing are known as St. John's Food. The Carob is mentioned in the Old Testament and ranks amongst the oldest trees.

The Olive Tree was said to be cultivated by the Romans as far back as 600 B.C. It also was introduced into California by Spanish missionaries around 1770.

FROM AUSTRALIA we have the Eucalyptus — about 70 species — names like blue gum, gray gum, sugar gum, red gum, branched gum, and even desert gum. These also were introduced in California by Spanish missionaries in the early seventies.

The Jacaranda, a beautiful tree for any lawn, was known in early India; now it is called a tropical American tree. Around the month of April its blue bloom is well worth studying.

FIRE IN WINDBREAK RESULTS IN CLAIM

Lawrence K. Freeman whose new 8-foot palm frond windbreak on Avenue 56 west of Jackson Street was destroyed by fire Dec. 21 filed a claim for damages with the Board of Supervisors this week.

The claim was referred to the road department and the county's insurance carrier for consideration.

According to Freeman, a prison labor gang failed to put out a fire it had set to burn grass along the avenue and after the crew had left, the fire spread igniting the windbreak which was set back about 630 feet from the road.

The idea of concentrating iron ore is not new. It was first introduced on Minnesota's Mesabi range in 1907.

He asked that the windbreak be replaced or that he be reimbursed for its cost.

Ecclestone Is Renamed to Post

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Herbert A. Ecclestone was re-elected to a two-year term as chairman of the Desert Hot Springs Park Board and Recreation District during a meeting of the board this week.

Ecclestone, John W. Kean, and Charles Edmond were renamed to the board by the county supervisors recently when their seats were uncontested in local election. Herbert A. Seal and Mrs. Marguerite Burmesch complete the board membership.

NEW YEAR'S REVELRY IS COSTLY

Eleanor L. Berkson of New York City, visiting in Palm Springs, has reported to police the loss of a gold and jeweled lipstick valued at $600. The gold lipstick case was described as having sapphires and rubies set in the metal. The loss came sometime New Year's Eve.

Right Brew

NEW YORK (UPI) — A clean pot is the prime requisite for making good coffee, says the Coffee Brewing Institute.

Wash your coffee maker with plenty of hot soap or detergent and rinses after every brew, using a well-lathered brush to scrub inside the spout and hollow stem. This prevents a left-over taste from spoiling fresh coffee.

DESTROYER IN 'INCIDENT'

U.S. Rejects Soviet Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States yesterday rejected Soviet charges that a U. S. destroyer made a mock attack on a Russian freighter in the Mediterranean Nov. 4.

In a note to the Soviet Union, the State Department said a U. S. destroyer did "pass" the Russian cargo ship Faleshty on the date but "did not carry out any provocative maneuvers."

The note was handed to Soviet diplomats here Wednesday and made public yesterday. Russia charged in a note Dec. 20 that the destroyer closely approached the Russian vessel, staged an "alert" with guns manned and forced the Soviet ship to stop her engines to avoid a collision.

The U. S. note said "no alerts were sounded for a mock attack... nor did the American ship ever approach the Faleshty in such a way as to endanger the Soviet ship."

"It is common practice for ships moving in international waters to establish mutual identification," the U. S. note said.

Cold War Strategy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Handkerchiefs used by cold victims need to be pre-treated before laundering. Pre-soak them in salt water for an hour and rinse in clean water. Then wash and rinse in clean water. Then wash in boiling hot soap or detergent suds and rinses. To sterilize, press with a hot iron while damp.

It said "a careful investigation" by U. S. authorities clearly showed that "this was the full extent of the American vessels' action."

Geese Eat Up

MADERA, Calif. (UPI) — California farmers used 175,000 to 200,000 geese this year to clean grassy annual and perennial weeds from their fields, Madera farm adviser Clarence Johnson said.

He said geese are saving growers as much as $50 per acre compared to hand labor and chemicals. All geese are good weeders, he said, but the White Chinese breed is most efficient. The majority are used in cotton fields.

Adenauer Marks 85th Birthday

BONN, Germany (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer celebrated his 85th birthday today, confidently looking forward to next fall's general elections and another four years as head of the West German government. Adenauer is the oldest head of government in the world. He has been chancellor since West Germany gained sovereignty more than 11 years ago.

Mrs. Arnold Back from Trip

By RUTH STEINER

After being gone for about five months, Mrs. Vera Arnold has returned to her home for the remainder of the season. She has been with her mother, Mrs. Zella Scobey in Los Altos. On Nov. 13, Mrs. Scobey and her two daughters, Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Marion Weaver, also of Los Altos sailed from San Francisco on the President Cleveland on a cruise of the Orient. They were on the boat for 40 days.

Some of the points of interest they visited were Honolulu, Yokohama, Manila, Hong Kong and Kobe. Mrs. Arnold took a three day over land trip from Kobe, meeting the boat in 'okohama. The three ladies returned to Los Altos on Dec. 23, where they enjoyed the Christmas holidays together.

Mrs. Arnold arrived home in time to spend the New Year's with her three children and their families, all getting together for the first time in over a year. New Year's dinner was enjoyed at the home of her daughter, Nancy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thomson and five-month-old daughter, Christina, who live in Thermal, with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Arnold, Betsy and Dan, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Arnold, Gail and Sue all here to celebrate the New Year and their mother's return home. Wednesday Mrs. Scobey arrived and will spend the winter with her daughter, Vera.

A festive after dinner open house was held on New Year's Eve at the Ironwood Street home of Mr. and Mrs. DeShong when a few of their friends were invited to drop by. Those in and out were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Coates, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pelgram, Mr. and Mrs. John Outcault, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bollman, Dottie Blair, Vera Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Malone, Mr. and Mrs. James Harstad, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reed and her mother who is visiting them, Mrs. Margaret Trenholm of Gresham, Ore., and Jack Swartz. Mrs. Jack Hensley and her daughter, Pamela arrived New Year's day from Burbank at the DeShong home for a few days, returning home Tuesday. Dr. Hensley's busy schedule kept him from accompanying his family.

Miss Susie Smith left Wednesday to return to Stevens College in Columbia, Mo., after having spent the holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith on Fiddleneck Lane.

A Christmas party trip to Las Vegas was hosted by Art Nightingale of Pinyon Flats, leaving here Friday before and returning home last Wednesday. The group were guests at the Dunes Hotel while there. Mr. Nightingale is president of the Pines to Palms Chamber of Commerce. Palm Desert folk who enjoyed this fun trip were Mrs. Evelyn Sahland and her daughter, Olive Dyna.

New Year's morning a party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. James Harstad in their home for a few out-of-town friends, who included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Grover of Beverly Hills who also own a home on Tierra Del Sol, Mr. and Mrs. Tetsch, Mr. and Mrs. John Monroe of Beverly Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Rud Porter (he is golf pro at Indian Wells Country Club), Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DeMoisey, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Thomas of Roseburg, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Paulhamus of Piedmont and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Orlob of Westwood.

In the late afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Harstad drove in to La Canada where they were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lindstrom who formerly lived in Minnesota as did Mr. Harstad. They enjoyed brunch at the Oakmont Country Club with other Minnesota friends, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gustafson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnston of Minneapolis before attending the Rose Bowl game. Larry Johnston played quarterback on the Minnesota team. The Gustafsons and the Johnstons are staying at the Desi Arnaz Indian Wells hotel while here.

A capacity crowd was in attendance New Year's Eve at Shadow Mountain Club when members and their guests gathered to celebrate the New Year in and to greet their old-time favorites,

AFL-CIO BACKING SEEN FOR KENNEDY PROGRAMS

WASHINGTON — The AFL-CIO high command was expected today to throw organized labor's weight behind President-elect John F. Kennedy's five-point program of priority legislation.

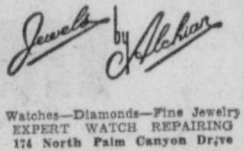

Members of the AFL-CIO's Executive Council assembled for a special session to mobilize support from every AFL-CIO union for Kennedy's immediate goals. Building trades leaders were reported somewhat miffed because Kennedy's emphasis on a minimum wage hike, help for depressed-area, medical care for the aged under Social Security, aid to education and housing legislation omits immediate attention to their pet project—a common sites picketing bill.

But George Meany, AFL-CIO president and a strong backer of Kennedy during the political campaign, appeared certain to win approval for his proposal to get behind the Kennedy program now. The 27-man council's decision was sure to emphasize Meany's contention that the number one task before the nation is to put the unemployed back to work.

Palm Springs Golf Classic To Attract Nation's Stars

Leaders Planning To Enter

Second annual Palm Springs Golf Classic, the richest tournament in the world, will bring all of the leading professional golfers in the nation and from abroad, to the Palm Springs area February 1 to 5, it was indicated today.

With them will be the top amateurs and stars of the entertainment world entered in the Pro-Am bracket of the event.

ALTHOUGH the entries of the pros are not expected until after the Los Angeles Open which started today and the Lucky tournament in San Francisco later this month, Milt Hicks, tournament committee chairman, said Friday that the nation's top pros will play on five Desert Empire courses during the event.

Arnold Palmer, winner of the first Classic which started him on his way as the leading tournament winner in the nation, is rated a certainty to be back to defend his title.

OTHER LEADING winners, Ken Venturi, Dow Finsterwald, are also expected. Big names in the top bracket of the PGA, Tommy Bolt, Billy Casper, Mike Souchak, Jackie Burke, Jr., Jack Fleck, Doug Ford, Bob Goalby, Jay and Lionel Hebert, Billy Maxwell, Art Wall, among others, will be here for the event.

In addition to the top pros, most of the leading stars in the entertainment world as well as the big time amateurs of the nation will compete.

THE CLASSIC is expected to draw more top names in the golf world than any other similar event.

It will be over a 90-hole medal route with the pros and amateurs playing the first four days, 72 holes over Bermuda Dunes, Eldorado, Indian Wells and Thunderbird courses and the 60 low pros and ties, winding up the final 18 holes at Tamarisk Country Club Sunday, February 5.

THE EVENT will focus the attention of the sports world on Palm Springs and arrangements for full coverage are well along at the headquarters of the Classic, 1009 South Palm Canyon Drive. One of the top tournaments of the year, the Classic is expected to draw large galleries at each of the five courses during the five days of play.

Woody is Hope's Excuse

LOS ANGELES — W — Bob Hope played five holes of golf in pro-amateur celebrity tournament Thursday and then "popped out" and went home to rest. He kept a business appointment later in the day.

"The course is hilly," said the 56-year-old comedian. "I got a little woozy and I didn't want to push myself."

Hope was playing at Rancho Golf Course in a foursome with former U.S. Open champion Bill Casper, sportsman Morris Sullivan and Bob Reynolds, president of the new Los Angeles Angels Baseball team, in the preview match for the Los Angeles Open when he suddenly felt fatigued.

"I didn't sleep very well, worrying about my swing," quipped Hope.

The comedian, who maintains one of Hollywood's most grueling schedules, was ordered to slow down two years ago when a blood clot developed in one of his eyes. He has managed to continue his fast pace, however.

Ole Miss Voted Top Grid Team

NEW YORK W — A six-man committee of the Football Writers Association of America today named Mississippi's unbeaten, once-tied Sugar Bowl champions as the nation's leading college football team of 1960.

Mississippi, 14-6 conqueror of Rice in the Sugar Bowl game Jan. 2 following a 9-0-1 regular season, will be presented with the seventh annual Grantland Rice Award by Look Magazine.

Golfing's Who's Who Tees Off in L.A. Open

LOS ANGELES W — The "who's who" of modern day golf tees off today in the $45,000 Los Angeles Open tournament — an event considered by many of the touring pros the "key" to success for the strenuous months ahead.

Arnold Palmer, the Latrobe, Pa., shotmaker who won $75,262 last year, is carrying the favorite's role. But the field is stacked with every one of the crack touring professionals.

"It is such a great field," says former National Open champion Lloyd Mangrum. "that just about anyone could win it. This is the finest field in the 35-year history of this tournament."

THE TOP COMPETITORS include: —Palmer, the National Open and Masters champion, winner of six other tournaments, and the country's leading money winner.

—Billy Casper, the Vardon Trophy winner for least strokes per round in 1960, 69.96 per 18 holes, former National Open champion.

—Doug Ford, the Top Ten tournament winner for the second year in a row.

—Ken Venturi, winner here in 1959 and the second leading money winner of 1960, with $41,230 officially in his credit.

—All members of the men leading the race for a berth on the U. S. Ryder Cup team, including defending tournament champion Dow Finsterwald; PGA champion Jay Hebert, Art Wall, former Masters champion; Casper; Bill Collins, Gene Littler, Jack Fleck and Larry Barber.

PLAY IS OVER the Municipal Rancho course which stretches 7,100 yards and the par is 71. Temperatures are expected to be in the high 70s through the tournament.

Using the new system designed to speed up play during the short days of the winter tour, players will alternately tee off from the 1st and 10th tee each of the first two days before the field is cut.

IN THURSDAY'S pro - amateur best ball event preceding the Open, young Tommy Jacobs of Palm Springs, Calif., fired a seven - under-par 64 for low individual score. He won $500.

Ted Krell of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was second with a 66-good for $400. Billy Maxwell, the pudgy Texan who plays out of Ocean-side, Calif., picked up $320 for a third-place 67.

The team competition found two foursomes led by Jimmy Clark, Long Beach, Calif., and Bobby Nichols, Midland, Tex., tied for first with a best ball of 56. They each won $350.

FULLMER, RAY TO FIGHT IN LAS VEGAS FEB. 25

LAS VEGAS, Nev. W — Sugar Ray Robinson and middleweight champion Gene Fullmer definitely will stage their fourth bout here on Feb. 25 before a national television audience, local promoters predicted today.

The two boxers signed for the fight Thursday in New York. But promoters called for a conference here today to determine whether the bout would be held in the 8,200-seat Las Vegas Convention Hall — as tentatively planned — or moved to another site, such as Los Angeles, Miami Beach, Chicago or Salt Lake City, Utah.

Local promoters Jack Doyle and Mel Greb conferred here today with Norman Rothschild, Syracuse, N.Y., who flew here from New York City after offering over the contract signing. Doyle indicated he was sure of support from big Strip hotels, and that the resorts would be represented at the conference.

Terms of the contract signed by Robinson before he agreed to try an unprecedented eighth time for the middleweight crown called for the aging ring magician to get $50,000 of the $150,000 television money and 25 per cent of the net live gate. This should net him — based on a Las Vegas fight — about $90,000 to $100,000.

For Fullmer, the bushy-browed West Jordan, Utah, champion, the rematch is worth 40 per cent of the TV fee — $60,000 — as well as 40 per cent of the net gate. This should bring him $125,000 to $135,000.

Indians Open DVL Play at Indio Tonight

Yucaipa Favored To Take Title with Tribe Rated Next

Palm Springs High basketballers trek to Indio tonight to open the Desert Valley League season against the Rajahs as play starts for all six DVL teams with Yucaipa favored to take the 1961 crown.

Coach Jim Workman's squad will be without the services of Gus Walton, who starred on rebounds in preliminary games. But he has two of the top scorers in the loop in Tyrone Taylor and Mark Edwards.

TAYLOR WAS HIGH scorer in the Banning tournament and Edwards led them all in the Perris tourney. Both were picked on the All-Perris team and Taylor was on the All-Banning team.

The Rajahs have a 3-7 mark for the season against the Indians record of 7 wins and 4 losses.

In other games tonight Coachella Valley's Arabs go to Twentynine Palms. The Arabs are 2-8 so far this year but are rated high by coaches.

YUCAIPA'S Thunderbirds, favored to take the DVL title, meet Banning at Banning. The T-Birds are 8-3 for the season in practice games and tournaments and after losing their first three games, have won eight straight.

Banning has a 3-8 record in preliminary games but is expected to fight it out with Palm Springs for second place according to a poll of the coaches of the six teams. They picked Yucaipa first, Palm Springs second, Banning third, Coachella fourth, Indio fifth and Twentynine Palms, last.

Game time tonight is 7 o'clock with B teams in preliminary games.

TV Lark to Pack 125 in San Carlos Feature Saturday

ARCADIA W — T.V. Lark is top-weighted at 125 pounds listed as definite starters in Saturday's $50,000 San Carlos Handicap at Santa Anita track.

Johnny Sellers will be aboard T.V. Lark which finished fourth in the Palos Verdes Handicap on opening day of the winter season.

Other horses listed as definite starters were: Bagged, 120 pounds, jockey Ismael Valenzuela; Ole Fols, 120, Eddie Arcaio; Finnegan, 119, Ralph Neves; Clandestine, 118, Jack Leonard; Divine Comedy, 118, Bill Shoemaker; Henrijan, 114, Pete Moreno; First Balcony, 111, Manuel Valenzuela; and Free Copy, 106, Angel Valenzuela.

Bloomer Girl, a 2-year-old filly making her debut, was the big news at the Arcadia track Thursday, missing the world record for 3 furlongs by a fifth of a second. She won by 7 lengths.

Oink won the $10,000 Burbank Purse. Oink paid $12 to win and covered the mile and a furlong in 1:47 1-5.

Hayes Jones Enters L. A. Indoor Meet

LOS ANGELES W — East Michigan's Hayes Jones joined a strong field of hurdlers today for the second annual Los Angeles Invitational Indoor track meet at the Sports Arena Jan. 21.

TEE TIME ON THE DESERT

Two Women Beat Pro in SM Tourney

Two members of the Shadow Mountain Golf Club Women's Auxiliary "beat the Pro" Wednesday and one tied him in the unique tournament staged at the club.

Bob Pinnell, club pro, matched his gross against the women, using their regular handicap plus seven additional strokes.

Then he went out and shot one of his best scores, a 64.

But Betty Bossart, in Group One, with her handicap and bonus seven, carded a 63 as did Dorothy Newcastle.

In Group Two Maude Chambers wound up with a 64 to tie Pinnell. The Auxiliary is now planning a Mixed Scotch Foursome to be played Sunday, Jan. 15.

Ron Nicol Wins

Palm Springs Municipal Course fared well in the recent Whittier Narrows Pro-Am with Ron Nicol, assistant at the local links winning in the pro division with a gross 73.

Four teams tied in the best ball foursome competition and one of them was from the local course. Nicol, Guy Guyman, Ray Kelly and Wally Amenhauser comprised the local foursome which tied for first with a 61.

Zell Eaton, Munie Course pro, playing on a different course, carded a 71. Low gross there was 69.

At O'Donnell Club

Mrs. Earl Thompson was the winner Thursday in the Individual Best Ball play at O'Donnell Golf Club with a net 67. Mrs. Edwin C. Nelson was second with a net 68 and Mrs. Fred Nelson and Mrs. Gus Knezevich tied for third with 70s.

Mrs. Lester Callahan carded a 73. Mrs. Fred Nicholson, 77 and Mrs. Don McDermott, 85.

Lakers Win Over Hawks 110 to 96

LOS ANGELES W — The Los Angeles Lakers play the St. Louis Hawks again tonight at the Sports Arena, hoping their fourth-quarter flurry of Thursday night will continue long enough for a second straight victory.

The Lakers outscored the Western Division leaders by 17 points in the final period to win the game 110-96 before 3,409 National Basketball Association followers.

Two More Sign Cleveland Pacts

CLEVELAND, Ohio W — The ranks of contented Cleveland Indians doubled today when recently obtained pitcher Johnny Antonelli and outfielder Willie Kirkland agreed to terms for the 1961 season.

Earlier, first baseman Vic Power and second baseman John Temple became the first Triest-men to return signed contracts.

PATRIOTS SIGN LONG

Bruins, SC Facing Big Test Tonight

LOS ANGELES W — Southern California and UCLA face their moments of truth immediately as the 1961 Big Five race opens tonight.

Both the Bruins and Trojans are given a real chance of ending California's two-year stranglehold on both conference and coast regional honors. But the Los Angeles teams must end old jinxes tonight and Saturday.

UCLA faces Washington at Seattle, where the Bruins have won two games in the school's cage history. Southern California meets California at Berkeley, where the defensive-minded Bears hold 25 straight triumphs. The Trojans have not won in the California gym since 1956.

This year's Big Five race should be a natural with the twice-beaten Bears, Bruins and Trojans all having a real shot at the crown. The team that wins on the road will annex the championship, which puts it squarely up to the Los Angeles squads tonight. West Coast Athletic Conference action finds the same situation in reverse. Here the high - ranked Northern California tandem of St. Mary's and USF journeys southward for critical early season tests. Their adversaries are defending champion Loyola and Pepperdine respectively with foes to be swapped Saturday night.

Cuba Won't Stop Baseball Players Leaving Country

HAVANA W — Minnie Minoso, Camilo Pascual and other Cuban baseball players who make their living in the United States during the summer received official assurance today they will have "no trouble" joining their American clubs.

A high ranking official in the Cuban Foreign Ministry said the government would not interfere with ball players leaving for the U.S.

The announcement was made as approximately 60 Cuban baseball players, including Minoso of the Chicago White Sox and Pascual of the Minnesota Twins, were sweating out getting visas to the U.S. in the aftermath of a break in diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Supervisors Approve Two Road Surveys

Chairman Davis Gets Explanation On Dedications

A recommendation by the county planning commission this week that the Board of Supervisors approve two Record of Surveys, one for L. S. Morgan on the south side of Varner Road between U.S. 60-70-99 and Mountain View Road and the other for Travis Rogers in North Shore Beach Estates on Salton Sea, drew some queries from the board's new member and chairman, Supervisor Norman J. Davis.

Noting that the roads in the two developments were dedicated to the county but not accepted, Davis asked "Who's going to maintain these roads?"

IT WAS EXPLAINED that the county cannot require roads in Record of Survey developments to be built to county standards. The Board of Supervisors, however, has a policy of accepting into the county road system only roads built to county road standards. Accordingly many Record of Survey roads are dedicated to the county but not accepted. It is then up to the property owners to take care of them.

"They're white elephants," explained Supervisor Paul Anderson. "They're given to you but you don't have to accept them."

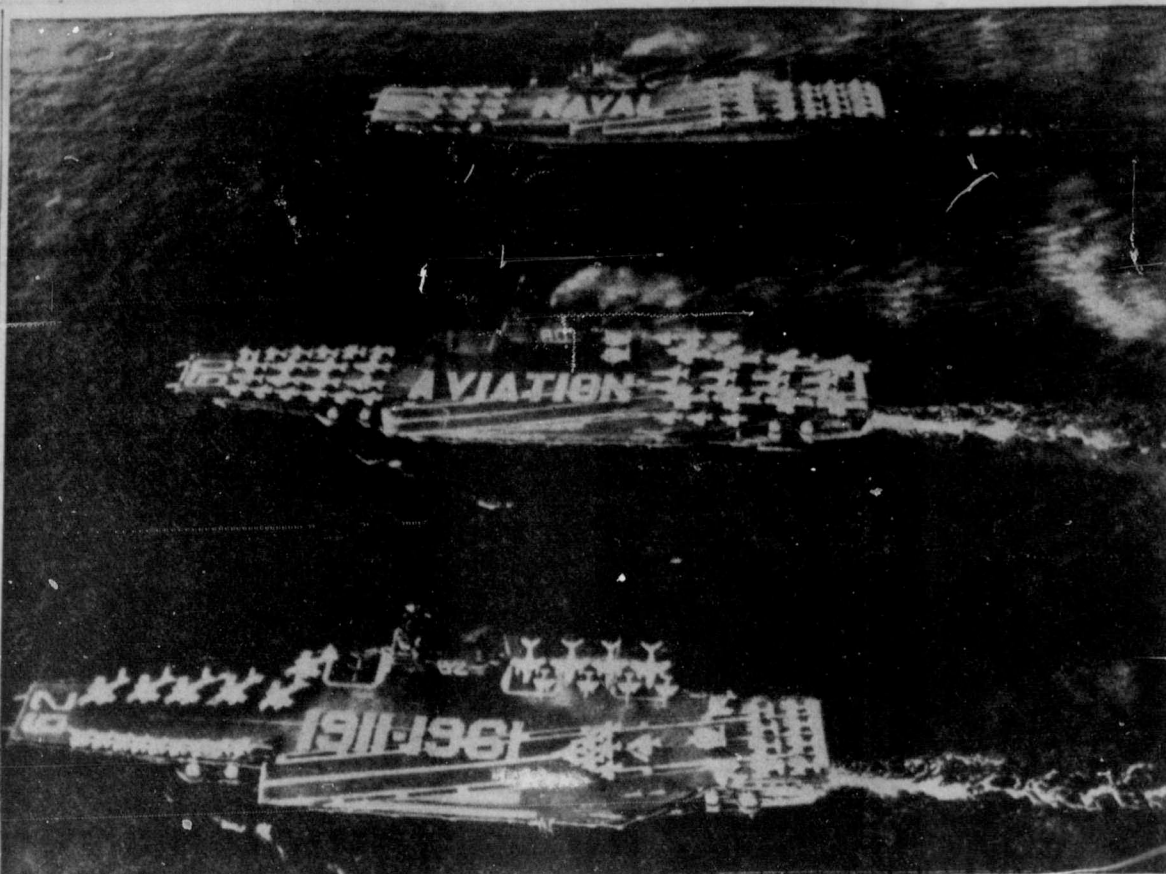

"WHAT HAPPENS when people move in the roads need to be improved and the property owners bring pressure on the county?" Davis wanted to know.

"That's a good question," answered Anderson. "They'll come to you, and it's then up to the Board of Supervisors."

Assistant Planning Director Clifford Lober broke into the conversation at this point. "There was no offer of dedication in this case," he said. "Drainage is the only improvement that can be required."

Annual Wade Scholarship Contest Begins

Architecture students in junior colleges and colleges throughout Southern California are now preparing their entries for competition in the third annual F. S. Wade Scholarship, according to William P. Hand, Southern California Gas Company division manager.

The $1,000 scholarship, awarded by the Southern California and Southern Counties Gas Companies, is made available to students who have completed one or more years in a college or junior college located in operating territories of the two gas utilities.

In addition, students from Bakersfield and Long Beach are eligible this year.

PARKING METERS DOING HUGE U. S. BUSINESS

CHICAGO (UPI)—Parking meters are doing a thriving business, the American Municipal Association reported.

A survey by the association showed that about 2 million meters collect $125 million a year at curbs and in parking lots of 3,850 cities and towns in the nation.

The survey, reported in Traffic Quarterly, showed that nearly two-thirds of the meters are set at 5 cents an hour and most of these sell 12 minutes' parking for a penny.

Thrifty Begins January Sales

Thrifty Drug Stores inaugurated one of the biggest sales in its history this week when the firm began a fabulous $2,000,000 Semi-Annual Clearance Sale.

Thrifty's giant Clearance Sale is being combined with the traditional January White Goods Sale.

However, a 10-cent-an-hour rate is becoming more common, the association found, with about 14 per cent of all meters collecting at that pace in 1960.

About half of the cities reporting their plans said they were considering parking meter rate increases.

Mrs. Arnold Married on New Years

Maryanne Arnold and Donald Robert Davidson were wed in a quiet late afternoon ceremony New Year's Day at the Plaza Amigo home of his sister, Mrs. William Seemann. Judge Eugene Theriault presided at the ceremony.

The couple were attended by Mrs. Seemann and the bride's brother, J. M. F. Taylor. The bride wore a gold brocade, mandarin fashioned gown complemented by a green orchid.

A champagne and cake reception followed for the small group which included: the bride's son, Jeffrey Arnold and the groom's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pereslete from Covina.

The groom is affiliated with the State Fish and Game Commission and owns a home in Ojai, California. He has just purchased a Palm Springs home for his bride at 677 No. Calle Rolph and the couple will divide their time between the two addresses.

Waffle Treat

Here's a waffle treat for the holidays. Melt together 1/4 cup of shortening and 1-3 cup of peanut butter; mix well. Place 2 cups of your favorite pancake mix, 1/4 cup of sugar, 2 cups of milk and 2 eggs in a bowl; add peanut butter mixture. Beat with a rotary beater until fairly smooth. Stir in 1/2 cup of chopped peanuts. Pour batter onto a hot waffle baker. Bake until steaming stops. Serve with butter and honey.

When the annual Inter-Service Club meeting, in which all the Palm Springs service clubs participate, is held at the Tennis Club on January 24 at noon, former screen star Corinne Griffith will be the speaker, it was announced today.

Miss Griffith, who is crusading for the abolition of individual Federal income tax, has made more than 450 speeches around the country. One of the greatest of the early day film stars, Miss Griffith is devoting herself to the crusade.

The luncheon meeting will be open to the public at $2.50 each, plus tax and tip. The Club has been guaranteed a minimum attendance of 200. Reservations should be made by calling 324-2249.

The affair is being hosted by the Soroptimist Club, and Desert Hot Springs service clubs have been invited to attend this joint meeting of clubs.

Triple Birthday Celebration

It was a triple birthday celebration over dinner at La Quinta Friday. Celebrating were Messrs. and Mmes. Archie DeLand and Sam Arscott of Joshua Tree Street in Palm Desert, and Oscar Smith (Mrs. DeLand's brother) from Vancouver. The birthdays belonged to the three men and were represented by a cake with three candles.

Right Brew

A clean pot is the prime requisite for making good coffee, says the Coffee Brewing Institute. Wash your coffee maker with plenty of hot soap or detergent suds and rinse after every brew, using a well-lathered brush to scrub inside the spout and hollow steam. This prevents a left-over taste from spoiling fresh coffee.

Grimm-Berney Vows Recited at Post-Christmas Wedding

In a year's end candlelight service at the Palm Springs Community Church, Linda Gayle Berney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Berney of Grand View, Idaho, became the bride of Frederick Clark Grimm on December 29. The young couple said their vows before Dr. James H. Blackstone Jr. in a double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an heirloom diamond necklace with a traditional gown of white satin which was trimmed with Swiss lace, and a fingertip veil held in place by a tiara. She carried a small white Bible, gift of the groom, with a white orchid and white satin streamers lined with white sweet peas.

Mary McGee of San Francisco a student at Whitworth College in Spokane, was maid of honor and also sang a solo. She and bridesmaid, Bonnie Blackstone of Palm Springs, were gowned in matching frocks of iridescent shades of green taffeta. Bouffant in style, with draped bodice, the gowns had hand fashioned green taffeta roses in the back. With this they wore matching short - length veils of green tulle, trimmed in seed pearls and fastened to semi - circles of green velvet. Their slippers, too, were green satin, and they carried nosegays of red carnations.

Caroy Van Dyke, the bride's niece, attended her as flower girl, wearing a white satin dress, with red velvet sash and baby velvet poinsettias. Her ribbon - trimmed basket held red and white carnations. Jeffrey Van Dyke, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

A Palm Springs resident, who is also a Whitworth student, Robert King acted as best man. Ushers were Gene Carnett, Richard Reakes, Dick McFarland, Richard Bennett, all of Palm Springs. All are Whitworth students except Richard Reakes, who attends Arizona State.

The church was decorated in the Christmas motif, which set the color scheme for the wedding. Altar flowers were white mums and poinsettias.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the church. The refreshment table was covered with a cloth of white net, caught at each corner by satin bows and satin streamers with touches of red. Here too, flowers were white mums and poinsettias, and red tapers in silver candelabra glowed softly, sparkling the bowl of rosy pink punch, which was served with the wedding cake. The three - tiered cake of white and silver, was topped with a miniature bride and groom and encircled at the base with red carnations.

The bride graduated from Grand View High, before entering Whitworth, where she is affiliated with Chi Epsilon sorority.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Harry Grimm of Palm Springs and Honolulu, is a graduate of Palm Springs High and a pre - ministerial student at Whitworth.

Following a short honeymoon at Forest Home, the young Grimms left for Spokane to resume their studies. They are making their first home at 13 Ball and Chain Lane on the Whitworth campus.

Holiday Birthday Celebrated

Holiday time was a gala time around the C. C. Hutchens' home on Mesquite, with their daughter Sue home from Bakersfield College. There were the Christmas festivities, and two days afterwards there was a surprise birthday party for Sue, when some of her friends were invited to a dinner party at the Tennis Club. Guests at the birthday dinner were Pat Pearl, Denni Bogert, Betty Furness and Robbie Anderson.

New Year's Eve was a gala occasion, as the Hutchens hosted a party for his associates and employees.

The sit - down dinner featured a variety of dishes, some brought by the guests. Enjoying the hostess's roast prime rib, Lew Levy's baked ham and many other specialties were Messrs. and Mmes. Carl Schooss, Lew Levy, Ed Weiner, Mrs. Cornelius Chenoweth from Idyllwild (she's Mrs. Hutchens mother) with her friend Mrs. Billie Williams, Misses Christine Hirsch, Mary Ellen Greenawalt, Maxine Corvill with Doug Hughes, and Dr. Clements Hardig.

Sorority to Attend Playhouse

Sigma Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will celebrate its fifth anniversary with a theatre party at the Ferrall Playhouse, it was decided when the sorority members met Tuesday night at the home of Lucille Fostvedt. Fayne Pritchett, social chairman, is in charge of reservations, for a pre-theatre dinner, which will be held at Ethel's Hideaway.

Members were also asked to make reservations for the Mission California Council breakfast to be held on January 15 in Brawley, at which time all chapters will make their annual donation to Cystic Fibrosis, the sorority's national charity.

Souffle pie, coffee and tea were served by the hostess, who then read and discussed newspaper articles on points to ponder for the New Year.

Those attending were Millie Herbert, Lucille Fostvedt, Helen Goudry, Fayne Pritchett, Eleanor Novyes, Eleanor Lenox, Sally Givens and president Marta Scott.

Poolside Party on New Years Eve

Guests were gathered poolside at Turquoise Villa New Year's Eve for a gala cocktail party. Among those attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Bernard Barsky with their children Felice and Jeff; Harry Gordon and son, Lenny; W. G. Sinn with their daughter and an exchange student guest from Denmark, Walter Girdwoyn, Paul Witte, Robert Lemmon and daughters, Linda and Marsha, Maurice Turner with their son and daughter - in - law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Turner and children, Janet, Nancy and Michael and Mr. Turners' sister Mrs. Bertha Kupperman from Beverly Hills.

Also, Mmes. Rose Curtiss, J. E. Carlile and J. C. Carlile, who are spending a month from Vancouver, B. C., Ray Miller and sons Ken and Mike.

Terrie Fenton Married in Beautiful Starlight Patio

Rabbi Joseph Hurwitz officiated at the double ring wedding ceremony between Terrie Ann Fenton and Noel F. Birns in El Mirador's Starlight Patio, December 18, at 5 p.m. The wedding was followed by a reception in the same room where the guests were served cocktails and hot and cold hors d'oeuvres.

The bride wore a cocktail length white silk organza and lace gown and was veiled in tulle with a crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and was attended by her sister, Sheila Shaffer of Beverly Hills, two bridesmaids: her cousin, Toby Richman of Los Angeles and Rolin Levin of Palm Springs and a flower girl, her niece Lisa Shaffer of Beverly Hills. The attendants wore red silk organza and carried red carnations.

Best man to the groom was his brother, Laurence Birns of New York, and his ushers were Malcolm Clark, Jr. and Albert Moe of Palm Springs.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving M. Fenton of 233 Farrell Drive and attended Beverly Hills and Palm Springs High.

Secession Plagued Buchanan, Administration

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

A hundred years ago, the administration of President James Buchanan was in desperate trouble.

Only a week before, his State of the Union message to Congress, in which he straddled the flaming issue of secession, had pleased neither the Northerners nor the Southerners and alienated both.

And as a result, the indecisive President had a full-fledged cabinet crisis on his hands.

ONLY A FEEBLE RAY of compromise dimly shone in this tense week. The Committee of 33, a House group appointed to find a way out of the North-South crisis, held its first meeting and did nothing but squabble.

The cabinet crisis was on everyone's tongue. A tangled maneuver, it was, of politicians trying to use the President to push the country to the extreme position of either secession or to a hard preservation of the Union stand.

The Northerners seemed to have the edge, too.

HOWELL COBB OF GEORGIA, secretary of the treasury, was the first to desert Buchanan. Publishing a red hot secession "manifesto" on Dec. 6, 1860, Cobb followed it up two days later by resigning from the administration. Cobb held that secession now was inevitable. The only feeling between the "Black" Republicans and the people of the South, he said in the document, was one of bitterness too deep to be overcome. After March 4, 1861 (when Lincoln was to be inaugurated) the federal government would have no claim on the South's confidence or loyalty.

Then he went South to Georgia and plunged into the fight to take his state out of the Union. Cobb had already a distinguished career. He was a former governor of Georgia. As a Whig congressman he had advocated preservation of the Union by compromise on slavery, but by 1860, after nearly four years in the cabinet, he had gone over to the secessionists. A distinguished battlefield career was ahead.

NEXT IN THE CABINET to go was Lewis Cass, secretary of state. Cass was 78, a Democrat and a firm Union man. He had fought in the War of 1812, a brigadier general in the regular army. He was President Jackson's secretary of war and later was minister to France. He ran for president in 1848 against Zachary Taylor and was a senator from Michigan for two terms. He was one of the strong men in the cabinet.

But he broke with the President over the issue of reinforcing the forts at Charleston, S. C. Buchanan then had before him a series of requests for reinforcements from Maj. Robert Anderson, who was struggling to restore the forts. "Old Buck" vacillated. On Dec. 13 Cass made one more effort to compel Buchanan to act.

"These forts must be strengthened. I demand it," Cass told the President.

"THE INTERESTS OF THE country do not demand a reinforcement of the forces in Charleston," Buchanan replied. "I cannot do it and I take the responsibility on myself."

Cass quit in disgust. Buchanan switched Attorney General Jeremiah S. Black to Cass' job as secretary of state. A Pennsylvanian, Black was a strong Union man. It was his opinion that Buchanan had cited in his message to Congress that secession was unconstitutional.

As attorney general Buchanan chose Edwin M. Stanton, born in Steubenville, Ohio, and educated at Kenyon College at Gambier, Ohio. Stanton had worked himself up to a top-position lawyer by 1860, practicing in Steubenville, Pittsburgh, and finally in Washington when his cases in the Supreme Court began to take most of his time.

STANTON WAS A pugacious little man, as rabid an anti-slavery advocate as the fiercest of the Southerners was pro-slavery. He learned his abolitionism at the knee of his father, a Yankee Quaker. He absorbed more at college and there was converted to the Episcopal Church, embracing a faith that at times bordered on the morbid. In Cincinnati trying a case, Stanton snubbed one of his co-counsel Abraham Lincoln, but would be Lincoln's able secretary of war later. He was intense, and industrious, excitable, suspicious and a prophet of doom. His remembered words, spoken at Lincoln's death bed, would be: "Now he belongs to the ages."

In place of Cobb at the treasury Buchanan appointed Philip F. Thomas of Maryland, who would last only a month.

THE ONE HOPE OF compromise at the moment seemed to be the Committee of 33, one House member from each state. Appointed Dec. 6 it met first on Dec. 11. At the start all seemed conciliatory enough, but on the 12th when Reuben Davis of Mississippi made a long speech attacking the Republicans, who controlled the committee, bad blood began to appear.

A resolution, designed by the Northerners to smooth over the ruffled feelings of the Southerners, was adopted but it ran into a denunciatory manifesto of Dec. 14 signed by 30 Southern congressmen which said that the time for argument had passed and that the Republicans had nothing to offer. On Dec. 14 chairman Tom Corwin of Ohio made a long speech again calculated to smooth over the fighting and suggested a mode of operation for the committee.

HE WANTED TO TAKE up a pending proposal to ask Northern states to repeal all laws against the Fugitive Slave Act. The committee wrangled on, and in a few days the Republicans voted down a resolution to extend the Missouri Compromise line to the west coast, with slavery permitted on the south and free soil on the north whenever the territories became large enough to warrant admission to the Union.

There the issue rested. It would be Feb. 28, 1861, before any tangible results from this committee would be laid before the House.

NEWSMEN AND POLICE surround President-elect John F. Kennedy following his arrival in New York from Palm Beach, Fla., vacation site. Kennedy immediately set up "little White House" in the New York metropolis and began issuing statements, appointments and establishing conference dates. Congress is already dealing with "crash" phases of legislation. Kennedy says he wants ready by Jan. 20 inauguration date. (UPI Telephoto)

Eytel Laid Groundwork for Art

By ELLEN SAUNDERS

Carl Eytel, the first artist to make Palm Springs his home and one of the few to penetrate the wonders of the Coachella Valley when it was a roadless, arid wasteland, lies buried in the Indian tribal cemetery here.

Carl was peace itself recalled Cabot Yerxa, Desert Hot Springs pioneer, and one of the few remaining old timers hereabouts who knew Eytel well. "He refused to carry a gun because he could not bring himself to kill anything. The Indians loved him and when he died in 1924 they buried him in their tribal cemetery, the first time they had accorded a white man this honor."

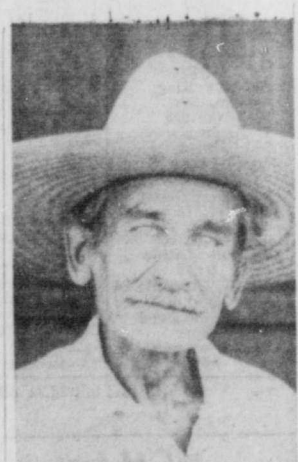

"POSSESSIONS MEANT nothing to him. When I met him in 1914 he had a six-by-eight-foot cabin on the outskirts of Palm Springs, which was just big enough to sleep in. He cooked outdoors over a few rocks but there was always enough food for the unexpected guest."

"We burro men named him the aristocrat because he owned a horse instead of a burro but Carl used to make long trips into the deserts of Arizona and New Mexico to paint the Indians and he never could have used a burro whose top speed was two miles per hour."

Yerxa, an artist in his own right, struck up a friendship with Eytel and the two men spent many hours exploring the desert and putting its charm on canvas.

"CARL TOLD ME how he ran away from his home in Stuttgart, Germany, when his family insisted he become a baker," Yerxa continued. "Horses and cattle had alarmed him so he roamed the plains as a cowboy until he could lay aside enough money to live on while he taught himself to paint."

He was mostly a pen and ink artist, although he did a few things in water colors. His sketches were always meticulously accurate and detailed. He never achieved great fame but he eked out a meager living by selling landscapes and by illustrating an occasional book.

SHORTLY AFTER Eytel first appeared in the Palm Springs area in 1906 he was commissioned by George Wharton James to illustrate his book, "Wonders of the Colorado Desert."

Of more than 500 sketches of animals, plants, Indians, canyons and mountains contained in the volume, James said: "I think they reveal genius as surely as they give proof of persistence in the face of obstacles which would daunt other men."

"TO SEE A RARE sight or learn a new thing he would travel day and night often over trails made by mountain sheep. He studied desert animals and made friends with the road runner, usually seen only when he runs from humans, so that he was able to watch him preen his feathers or take sunbaths."

On one occasion, according to James, Eytel was mistaken for a noted horse thief and condemned to hang. Fortunately the owner of the horse was invited to witness the killing and immediately pointed out that the horse which had been found in Eytel's possession was not the stolen animal.

An exhibit of the work of this intertidal artist is currently on display at the Palm Springs Desert Museum.

Motor Vehicle License Fees Distributed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state has distributed a total of $9,067,964 from state-collected motor vehicle license fees to California's 369 cities and 38 counties.

State Controller Alan Cranston said today the apportionment represents about 8 per cent of what the cities and counties can ultimately expect in the 1960-61 fiscal year. He said larger apportionments will be made in April and June.

Mrs. Plum accompanied the Klockes to Covina on Saturday where they spent the weekend as the guests of Mrs. Klocke's daughter, Mrs. Joe Tableman. On Monday the entire group attended a family dinner party hosted by Mrs. Klocke's son, Harry Moser at his home in West Covina.

Dinner guests at the James G. Pack home on Christmas Day included their son, Robert of Los Angeles, and Jeanette and Julius Mattheisen.

Pack, who is vice president of the 28th district of the California Real Estate Association, recently installed the 1961-1962 officers of the Yucca Board of Realtors, and participated in installation cere-

Snappy Punch

NEW YORK (UPI) — A holiday punch called snapdragon takes its name from an old holiday good luck game in which participants tried to snatch 12 raisins each from flaming brandy on a platter. Adding to the risk, the raisins traditionally were still on the stem. Any player who rescued his dozen before the flames died was said to have good luck every month of the New Year. Beginning, no doubt, after his burned fingers healed.

Some snapdragon players used sherry soaked walnuts for a similar game. Snapdragon punch traditionally is made with both walnuts and raisins, plus sherry, hot water and spices.

Depositions Taken in Two Hayes Lawsuits

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Taking of a deposition was completed Wednesday in litigation by builder Hal B. Hayes over two suits totaling $12 million.

Attorney George E. Danielson said the case would remain in a "discovery stage" for some time to allow each side to investigate opposing views.

Hayes filed the actions against Continental Casualty Co. and the Federal Housing Authority on the contention he was forced to default on government housing projects representing an estimated $60 million because he was given false estimates.

Continental has filed a petition seeking dismissal of a $4.1 million suit brought by Hayes.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sweet potatoes are a high-energy, high-vitamin and mineral food. Combined with bacon, their nutritional values rise still more. To make baked sweet potatoes with bacon, wash 1 potato per person and wipe dry. If soft skin is desired, rub lightly with bacon fat or shortening. Prick skin to permit steam to escape.

Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven 1 hour or until done, with time depending on the size of the potatoes. Remove from oven, peel and wrap a strip of raw bacon around each potato, holding in hot oven about 15 minutes, until bacon is crisp.

Today is Friday, Jan. 6, the sixth day of the year with 359 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1759, Martha Dandridge Custis, widow of Daniel Parke Custis, was married to George Washington.

In 1878, American poet and writer Carl Sandburg was born.

In 1919, former President Theodore Roosevelt died at his home in Oyster Bay, N.Y.

In 1925, Paavo Nurmi smashed two world's records in the Finnish-American track matches at Madison Square Garden in New York.

A thought for today: American poet Carl Sandburg said: "This is a great theater. Who can live without hope?"

PODELL GETS HONOR AWARD AFTER SALES

Bill Podell, sales manager of Palm Springs Lincoln - Mercury, has earned a Sales Management Honor Award from the Lincoln-Mercury Sales Council.

Announcement of the sales management recognition for Podell was made by W. H. Allen, Los Angeles district sales manager for Lincoln Continental, Mercury, Comet and English Ford cars.

The certificate is awarded for proficiency in organizing and directing a top-level sales force.

Allen said the prestige awards are presented after an evaluation of accomplishments by dealership sales managers throughout the country.

Three Tax Forms Available for Taxpayers

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Desert Sun as a public service will present a series of articles on taxes once weekly between now and the tax deadline of April 15. The articles are scheduled to appear each Thursday, and will be written by R. R. Buttcane, local Certified Public Accountant.)

By R. R. BUTTCANE, C.P.A.
There are three different forms available to individual taxpayers for use in filing their 1960 Income Tax Returns. These forms are 1040A, 1040W and 1040. It is important that you as a taxpayer file on the form best suited to your particular tax situation.

Form 1040A, a "punch card" is the simplest to fill out. It may be used by single taxpayers with incomes less than $5,000, or married taxpayers with combined incomes of less than $10,000, both subject to withholding tax.

IT MAY ALSO include income from dividends or interest up to $200. The tax computation is made by the Director of Internal Revenue if total taxable income is $5,000, or less. Otherwise taxpayer must compute his tax by using the tax table provided and send a check with the return.

If dividends and interest are in excess of $200 or any other type of income is reportable, form 1040-A may not be used. If deductible expense exceeds 10 per cent of total income it is not in the taxpayer's best interest to file on 1040A.

FORM 1040W THE "wage earners" return may be used by taxpayers with over $5,000 income if single or a married couple with over $10,000 income both subject to withholding tax. The $200 maximum also applies on dividends and interest. It may also be used by the taxpayer who itemizes deductions claims dividend exclusion and credit, or sick pay exclusion.

It may not be used if income from rents, royalties, capital gains, business, professional or farming is involved or if taxpayer wishes to claim retirement income credit.

TAXPAYER MAY compute tax either by using the optional tax table or percentage computation depending on the amount of income involved.

Form 1040 is the customary form used by individual taxpayers for years and must be used in any situation where 1040A or 1040W is not permissible or desirable.

DESERT HOT SPRINGS

DHS Matron to Jet to Hawaii

By ELLEN SAUNDERS

January promises to be an exciting month for Mrs. Frank Kibbey and her mother, 81-year-old Mrs. Daisy Thompson of Yucaipa. The two ladies will "take to the air" for the very first time when they jet over to Hawaii on Jan. 17 for a three week visit with Mrs. Kibbey's son, Yeoman 2nd class Edward C. Kibbey and his family.

The holidays have been busy ones for the Kibbeys. Accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, the Frank Kibbeys, Jr., they motored to Chula Vista for a Christmas weekend with their son, Pierce. On New Year's Eve the elder Kibbeys were the large crowds which welcomed in 1961 at the Highlander Restaurant.

The Riviera Hotel in Palm Springs will be the scene of a gala dinner party on Wednesday night honoring Mrs. A. L. Galvan on her 70th birthday. Hosts will be Mrs. Galvan's three sons, Morris, Alvin and Ernest Davis of Nashville, Tenn., and her daughter and son-in-law, the Harry Mendels of Atlanta, Ga. Joining in the celebration will be Mrs. Galvan's sister, Mrs. Rose Kline, Harry Kline of Nashville, Tenn.; and many guests from Los Angeles, Burbank, Pasadena and Palm Springs.

Mrs. Galvan's sons and daughter who have been guests at the Atlas-Hi Lodge since their arrival a week ago have been entertained extensively both here and in Palm Springs. They plan to remain until Jan. 10. Both Mrs. Galvan and her husband Aaron are active in community affairs. Mrs. Galvan is a past president of the Sisterhood of Congregation of Nove Shalom while Mr. Galvan is retiring president of the Jewish Community Center.

A number of guests from Chicago were among the crowd celebrating New Year's Eve at the Palmer Lodge. Mrs. Palmer's sister, Mrs. Rose Smith, who arrived from the "windy city" last week to spend several months here was among them as well as the Julius Millers (he owns radio station WAIT) the Jack Schwartzes, the James Salesons and Jacob Katz. Other guests included Mrs. Berger's sister, Mrs. Louis Walter of Phoenix, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. I. Finkelstein, and Mr. and Mrs. N. Goldberg of Los Angeles.

The William Bishops of Cheviot Hills spent New Year's as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mattheisen. Other guests at the Mattheisen home over the holidays have included the Carl W. Nybergs of Torrance, Miss Ethel Campbell of Los Angeles and her sister and brother-in-law, the Ray Reimers of Clinton, Ia., who planned in for a few days.

One of the largest New Year's Eve parties in town was that given by the Edwin Jacobsons. Among the guests were the Lew Blackners and the Bob Bobbetts of Palm Springs. With the Bobbetts were their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Laurence of Santa Rosa. Also Sharon Main, Linda Church and George Hemmingsen of Long Beach. Mr. Jacobson's mother, Mrs. Berenice Jacobsen and his sister, Mrs. Helen Brouwer Jack and Colleen Morey, the Roger Feldmans, the Sam Mooneys, Ted and Glory Munday, the Zed Gwartneys, Mr. and Mrs. John Santucci and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Woods.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Markell who enjoyed Christmas in Pasadena with their children, reopened their home for the New Year's holiday. With them are the Raymond Ebberts of Pasadena.

The flu upset New Year's Eve plans for several people here including the Joseph Lukomskis who had planned to join in the celebration at the Highlander. The Lukomskis spent Christmas here and had as their houseguests for several days two Los Angeles couples, their daughter and son-in-law, the Harry Johnsons and their daughter Pat, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Felch and family. Mrs. Johnson, a former resident of our town, is a member of the Desert Hot Springs SandWitches.

Mrs. Alan Agnew entertained at a holiday luncheon on Thursday at her home in Cholla Gardens. Guests included Mrs. Fred Morrison and Mrs. Charles Travers of Palm Springs, and Mrs. Donald Ingersoll of Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Katz have just returned to their home in Oakland after spending the holidays here with their parents, Rabbi and Mrs. Isaac E. Bloch. Mr. Katz is a history professor in the Oakland public school system.

The Aaron M. Eaton home has been a busy one for the past two weeks with 14 grandchildren from Inglewood, Arcadia, Long Beach, Riverside and Nuevo, coming and going. Shortly before Christmas Mrs. Eaton's daughter and son-in-law, the L. H. Kropps from Winnetka, Ill., and their children, Jennifer and Rennie, flew in for the holidays. On New Year's Day 11 members of the family had a birthday dinner at The Beachcomber in Palm Springs honoring Mr. Eaton and Mrs. Eaton's daughter, Mrs. Roy B. Jones of Inglewood, whose birthday fell on Jan. 2. Later in the evening several other members of the family joined them for birthday cake at the Eaton's residence.

Another local resident who claims New Year's for his birthday is Judge King. Judge, who teaches shop at San Marino high school and in his spare time studies for a master's degree at Los Angeles State College, has been spending the holidays here with his wife and two sons.

The Ma-Ha-Yah Lodge was the scene of a gay New Year's Eve party. Guests who stayed on to enjoy the hospitality of Rose and Nat Bertram for a few more days included Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tabak of Malibu Beach (he's president of Tabak of California), Mr. Tabak's brother, industrialist Irving Tabak of New York City, and the Irwin Pavins, the David Boshes and the H. M. Scullys of Beverly Hills. Also Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Grossman of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kraus of Brentwood; Mrs. Bertha Solnit (she owns the Solnit Shoe Company of Los Angeles), the Jack Goldbergs of Van Nuys, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Cyril of Los Angeles (he's vice president and general manager of the Karl Shoe Company), and Mrs. Bessie Fenner of Desert Hot Springs.

The Hans Kleinjungs entertained at a small dinner party on Friday night. Guests included the Alan Agnews whose marriage was recently solemnized in the Kleinjungs home, and the Bradley Thompsons of Palm Desert.

Mrs. Frank Miller of Alhambra returned to her home on Wednesday after spending the holidays with Mrs. Grace Parsons Harmon. For more than a decade Mrs. Harmon has celebrated Christmas with the same group of friends. When circumstances prevented her from joining with them this year, they came here for a reunion the day after Christmas. Members included Mrs. Mark Preston and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Emma Preston of Los Angeles, the Harvey Stetsons of Arroyo Grande (they belong to the Stetson hat family), and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Porter of Nuevo.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arnesen motored to Canoga Park on Friday to spend the holiday weekend at the home of their grandson, James Thompson. They were accompanied by their daughter and son-in-law, the Bradley Thompsons of Palm Desert.

Safety Meeting Due Here Jan. 9

The Coachella Valley chapter of Governor's Industrial Safety Conference will meet in the Palm Springs City Hall council chambers at 7 a.m., Jan. 9.

There will be a short business meeting followed by a speech, "Putting Excitement into Safety," delivered by Keith Dwyer, safety coordinator for the County of Riverside. Dwyer will also show films relating to safety.

ROTARY HANDS ACROSS THE SEA are demonstrated by Arthur Holzheimer, architect Rotarian from Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, who exchanged Rotary club flags with Harry Cannon, right, president of the Palm Desert Club. Holzheimer was brought to Palm Desert by Evansten, Ill., Lion club member Joseph Mock. The German Rotarian is touring the United States as a guest of Lloyd Hollister, Rotary International treasurer, to exchange operational policies. (Desert Sun Photo)
